

The legal age to vote should be lowered to 16

Katewoodward (PRO)

- 1) 16 y/o are still in education (a place for classroom discussions/debates) meaning they're now learning about economics, sociology, civics, government & politics ect. therefore this knowledge is fresh for them, compared to the older generations who a) haven't been in education for years, and b) whose education might be outdated / not relevant in todays society
- 2) They are the future of the society, they should have the right to participate in it
- 3) old & enough to work = old enough to vote
